March 2006

Reunion Update

We are in the home stretch and the fun will soon begin at our Class of 1966 40-Year Reunion. We have had a great early response; over 200 attendees already plan to attend. It is not too late to register and join the long list of classmates (see page 3) who will be there for this memorable event. Use the forms on pages 13 and 14 or check on the Class web site at www.alum.dartmouth.org/classes/66. Remember to send both the Registration form and the Activities Participation form, the latter being very important for event planning. This is also a great opportunity for a mini-reunion of fraternities, sports teams, and your other favorite groups within the framework of our big Reunion.

All of the final planning pieces are falling into place. Look at the expanded Saturday and Sunday afternoon Activities Descriptions on pages 10 and 11, including a new activity on Saturday afternoon at the Hood Museum - a slide talk on the Cornish Art Colony. Also, we now have the extra charges identified for a few of the activities and we need to collect those extra charges ahead of time. On Saturday, these include Golf ($65 including cart and prizes), the Marsh-Billings Tour ($10/person), and DOC Canoeing ($10/two person canoe). Then, on Sunday, Golf ($55 including cart), the Saint-Gaudens Tour ($10/person), and DOC White Water Rafting ($20/person). If you are sending in your registration forms now and you are selecting one or more of these activities, please include the extra fees along with your basic Reunion payment. If you have previously submitted your Registration forms and payment, please send along the extra fees to Jim Weiskopf at 13125 Willow Edge Court, Clifton, VA 20124. Your help in making these payments in advance is greatly appreciated.

Jere Daniell, retired professor of American History, will be our feature speaker following our Sunday night dinner in Alumni Hall and he has a super reputation. The Dodecaphonics will sing to us on Friday night and the Dartmouth Aires on Sunday night. Lou's Mobile Music will provide great tunes on Saturday night, including your favorite "Songs of 1966" that you can vote for on page 9 or on the Class web site. More lodging is now available – see the bottom of the Registration form. Even an advance 3-day pre-Reunion trip down the Connecticut has been proposed – contact Ken Meyercord at kiask@comcast.net or 703-481-5711. We have also identified other activities going on around campus over the weekend, as follows:

DARTMOUTH CHAMBER SINGERS
Friday, May 26, 8 pm, Rollins Chapel, $14

ELEANOR FROST AND RUTH AND LORING DODD PLAY FESTIVAL
Friday, May 26 and Sat., May 27, 8 pm - Bentley Theater

DARTMOUTH SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
Saturday, May 27, 8 pm, Spaulding Auditorium, $18

If you want to arrange for tickets to any of these, you should contact the Hop Box Office at 603-646-2422, which is open 10-6 EST, M-F and 1-6 on Sat. or at www.hop.dartmouth.edu.

We have chosen the topics and classmate moderators for our panels on Saturday and Sunday mornings. We are now looking for additional classmates who have specific skills or experiences to add to our panels. The format will also encourage audience discussion so you don't have to be a panelist to participate in lively exploration of the following topics:

Saturday 9-10:15: Classmate Peter Prichard, former Editor of USA Today and currently President of the Freedom Forum in Washington, will moderate a panel which will explore "The News Media's Roles and Challenges," including the issue of bias in the media. Besides Peter, we will have representatives of The Dartmouth, to bring a contemporary student perspective, and classmate Jim Weiskopf, who will share his experiences as a former Army Public Information Officer. We are looking for other classmates who either are or have been journalists to join the panel; we're also interested in people who have dealt with the media and think they were unfairly treated, or didn't have their story reported fairly or completely. In preparation for this panel, you may want to read Bias by Bernard Goldberg, former CBS News correspondent. Peter can be reached at pprichard@freedomforum.org.

Saturday 10:30-11:45: Classmate David Johnston, Life Skills Coordinator for Casey Family Services in New England, will moderate a discussion concerning a life transition we all are facing, "Retirement: What Does it Really Mean?" David has recruited Dr. Rich Abraham to join the panel; we are looking for other classmates (or spouses of classmates) at various stages of pre and post-retirement to share how they are thinking and feeling about the "R" word. Besides soliciting panel member comments, David intends to ask audience members to share their perspectives during the session. David can be reached at david.johnston1@comcast.net.

Sunday 9-11:15: Classmate Noel Fidel, retired Arizona Appeals Court Judge and current law professor at Arizona State University, will moderate a panel which will explore the current "State of the College." Noel also brings his experience as a former President of the Alumni Council and as father of Alexander, a current undergraduate (as well as Nathan '02 and Louis '03). Classmate Stan Colla will bring his perspective of over 20 years in senior College administrative positions as well as his current position as an officer of the Alumni Association. Classmate Dick Birnie, Geology Professor, will bring us up to date on how the College faculty has evolved during his long and distinguished career. We are in the process of recruiting '66 legacy undergraduates to join the panel to enlighten us as to their Dartmouth experiences. Classmates Bob Spence and Rick Reiss will discuss College finances and the importance of continued alumni support of Dartmouth. We will include ample time for plenty of audience participation in each of these topics, or other College topics you wish to discuss as a group. At about 11:15 we will transition into our Class meeting. Noel can be reached at nafidel@mac.com.

How can you not want to join this great collection of stimulating speakers and educational panels, great meals, exciting activities, nostalgic venues, and most important...the special group of old friends and new friends listed below? We look forward to seeing you in May.

News from Classmates

In anticipation of the 40th, Bill Ferris wrote: "My wife Cheryl and I are coming and we are confirmed at the Norwich Inn. It will be fun to reconnect with you guys! You know what might also be fun would be to invite us all to send in a jpg of ourselves and wife, kids...whoever is coming to the reunion. These could be collected on the webpage and would heighten interest and help with recognition once we get there! I'm sure one of the retired '66's could be enlisted to help with this if you guys are already swamped. See you in a few months!"

In a similar vein, Don Graves wrote: "Did the committee make any provisions for a web-based reunion "book"? For the 40th, it would seem appropriate. We could have a page for each classmate, and each could submit and directly input content, including pictures. This could be published in an indexed CD in Adobe Reader format...Perhaps someone already retired with a little computer experience could undertake such a project." If anyone is interested in organizing and implementing this project, please contact Reunion Chair Al Keiller at sienawine@aol.com.

Joining the growing number of class retirees (the subject of a reunion panel chaired by David Johnston) is Jay Vincent: "Beginning to learn about 'retirement'. Passed CEO title on to new leader of the team. I'm now Chairman and Commercial Development Officer, working the chemical patent estate in polymer adhesion promoters and UV sunscreens. Keeps the juices flowing. Back on skis after a three year hiatus due to heart concerns. Looking at real estate in Palm Springs to offset Chicago winters. Raised two sons, now thoroughly enjoying three granddaughters. Wife Andrea (Colby Junior College '65 and St. Lawrence University '67) still building recognition and sales as a watercolorist (also oils and acrylics). See her work at www.andreavincent.com. Looking forward to 40th over Memorial Day Weekend. Understand a lot of Tabards will be there. Lest the old _ _ _ _ _."

Representing the more "experienced" retirees, Rich Kaiser writes, "Thoroughly enjoying past two years of retirement and birth of twin grandchildren in December."

You'll recall from the last Newsletter that Budge Gere, among others, was planning to attend the 100th anniversary of Dartmouth Hockey at the end of January. Chuck Vernon sent along the following: "Was at a reunion In January for the 1964 hockey team...included were Dean Mathews, Budge Gere, Karl Andrews, Bill Jevne, Dick Larson, Charlie Stuart, Fred Junger, and Jack Stebe (a scrub!!!). It was a gathering in honor of Ab Oakes and family and Irv Fountain (deceased) and wife. It coincided with the 100 years of Dartmouth Hockey weekend. Lots of fun. Jevne and I played in the alumni game. We all gathered at Sven Karlen's ('65) house a mile south of town. Am getting together with Roger Brett and George Emlen and planning on our 40th over Memorial Day weekend."

Ted Temple and some fellow Gamma Delts organized a "tiny mini" reunion this past October at the Great Camp Sagamore, "a national historic landmark (thanks to the Vanderbilts) located on Raquette Lake in upstate New York. We are happy to report that Bill Bryan, Geoff Huck, and Mike Schail all survived the scenic outing although one of our members narrowly escaped being gored by an enraged bull possum! We are now ready to further tempt fate by planning for our next 'outward bound' event." Other GDX's interested in participating can contact Ted in Ocean View, NJ at tted@comcast.net.

"I had hoped to join our classmates at our 40th reunion, but that will be impossible", writes Allen Nadler. "My daughter, Susannah, will graduate from Wesleyan on May 28, and my daughter, Reena, will graduate from Swarthmore the same day. It will be hard enough for me to be in Middletown,

Coming Events

40 th Reunion	Hanover, NH	May 26-29, 2006
Fall 2006 Mini-Reunion	Hanover, NH	October 13-14, 2006
65th Birthday Party	London, UK (?)	TBD, 2009

Connecticut and Swarthmore, Pennsylvania at the same time, without adding Hanover, New Hampshire to the mix. So, I will have to wait for our 50th. I look forward to reading all about the reunion in the Class Newsletter. Have a great time!"

Also unable to attend the 40th is Jim Hourdequin: "Son Jim, Class of '97, will be getting married in Bennington, VT that very weekend. We will, however, be visiting Hanover more frequently, as Jim now makes his home in Hartford, VT across the river and will be working for Lyme Properties with offices above the former site of the Dartmouth Coop. His fiancé, Kathryn Cunningham (Harvard AB, Yale MD), will be moving her practice to the Upper Valley as well, site to be determined. We are delighted at the prospect of a new daughter-in-law and expanded family. Wife Marg has bounced back from her frightening experience with a muscle-debilitating auto-immune disease after a productive week at the Mayo Clinic last June. She has continued as principal of King Philip Middle School here in West Hartford and after lots of drugs and persistent PT, she is back cross-country skiing. Hoorah! Daughter Marion will be leaving her Philosophy teaching to start a similar job at Colorado College. We'll miss her and our only grandchild (so far) but we'll enjoy the excuse to visit Colorado. Son Peter finishes his Masters in Asian Studies at Hawaii in May, but will probably remain in Hawaii---another great place to visit. All continues to go well and we thank God for our many blessings."

With all the planning for our 40th reunion, Jo and Al Keiller still found time to visit Australia and New Zealand at the beginning of February. "Trip was great. Good to be back. Great weather except some rain in Cairns, which we were told was good as it kept things a little cooler during the middle of their summer, and one day of rain in NZ, a travel day so it did not hurt us much. Three days in Sydney with harbor cruise, city tour and Jo doing the Bridge Climb (I can't handle such heights anymore), nice restaurants; two days in the Blue Mountains with an excellent eco tour with a guide; two days on Kangaroo Island off of Adelaide with excellent eco tours both days; an overnight in Adelaide and then four days in Cairns with Great Barrier Reef day, Daintree Rainforest Eco tour and Aborigine museum/show; return to Sydney for one night to meet up with Lynne and Hunt Whitacre '64. We traveled seven days with them: two days in Rotorua on north island for Maori experience, then flew to Queenstown and rented a car and visited Te Anu, Milford Sound, Lake Wanaka, Lake Moeraki Wilderness Lodge on the West Coast, Arthurs Pass Wilderness Lodge, and Christ Church, after which the Whitacres left; we continued on to Picton in the north of the South Island and then two days near Able Tasman Park and one final day in Auckland. We are exhausted, but very pleased with the trip."

As many of you know, Peter Dorsen has had some recent downturns in his life (loss of his license to practice medicine, bankruptcy, divorce), but he wanted the Class to know that he is working his way through chemical dependency counseling school with free-lance writing, waiting on tables, and other odd jobs. Always upbeat, Peter writes, "The good news is that I don't have terminal cancer or that I have died and/or am dead. Although I feel very proud to be a Dartmouth alumnus, I felt very privileged after I completed treatment at University-Fairview."

Class Notes from the Dartmouth Alumni Magazine

In preparation for the 40th, our ever-eager, erstwhile, and now lecherous alum-about-campus Chuck Sherman has started posting Larry Geiger's DAM Class notes from their "beginning" in 1966. Ever want to know how many of our classmates went on to Dartmouth Med? Or left the Hanover Plain for the evil doings on the Charles? Or who was teaching school in Northfield, MA? Or who roomed together at UNC in Chapel Hill? Well, thanks to an undergrad intern who xeroxed old DAM's, and Chuck's scanning skills, you can find out the answers to these questions on the Class website; just click on "Class Notes". The first two issues from 1966, along with other more recent columns, are now available.

Dartmouth College Fund

Bob Spence sent along the following update on the Fund:

Dear Classmates:

As you all are probably right now focused on income taxes, it's probably a good time to talk about numbers. Numbers are interesting. They can rivet your attention, like a high PSA count; can be used to obscure the facts (Mark Twain always maintained that there were three types of people in the world: liars, damned liars and statisticians), or can be informative and useful. We'll try for the latter.

So far, our class contributions and pledges to the DCF total $445,000 against a goal of $650,000. Our participation rate is 29.2%. Class agents will start making their calls next week. We have a lot of work to do. Given where we are timing wise in the campaign, we are optimistic that we can achieve our class goal if we can obtain your help, and we will need all the help we can possibly get. Thanks go out to our class agents and donors to date.

So let's see why the DCF is important. The June 2005 Dartmouth annual report makes interesting reading. Endowment distributions covered 18% of Dartmouth's $648 million total operating revenues. Endowment assets equaled $2.7 billion at fiscal year end. In the past ten years total endowment has grown from $902 million to the $2.7 billion today. Of that increase, $2.3 billion has been due to investment gains compared to $391 million in gifts and other additions ($865 million was distributed during this ten year period). The ten year average annual return on endowment asset investments has been 14.1%, significantly above average for like institutions. The investing of proceeds is diversified, and includes use of sophisticated hedge, swap and limited partnership structures to enhance portfolio returns and hedge investment assets, currency and interest rate movements. Successful fund management has allowed Dartmouth to maintain a AAA bond rating. Dartmouth's endowment per full time student is $476 million, compared to Princeton at $1,679.4 million. Interesting, right? Yes, but endowment alone doesn't enable Dartmouth to achieve its purpose in being.

Tuition and fees from all sources at $188.3 million is about 29% of total operating revenues. Tuition, fees, room and board charges cover 48% of the Dartmouth's per student cost. For undergraduates, who pay an average $39.5 thousand per year in tuition, room and board, tuition and fees cover about 42% of costs. (The five year average growth rate for costs to undergraduates is 4.4%, compared to a 7% rate for the institution as a whole.) Interesting, right? Frankly, it's down right amazing compared to costs of tuition in our day.

Focusing just on the college, in 2005 the DCF received $27.9 million in unrestricted gifts. $45.7 million in DCF and other unrestricted gift funds were included in total college revenues. College expenses totaled $595 million, of which 59% were spent directly on student and academic programs. Endowment distributions covered $120 million of expenses; the remaining expenses were covered by sponsored research and other income. The majority of endowment proceeds are restricted as to use. Even the unrestricted portion ($1.1 billion) of total endowment is not available for current use. Sponsored research grants are spent largely on sponsored programs. What allows the college to operate on a day to day basis and provides much of a student's ability to fulfill his or her (or should that be her or his) potential are tuition and fees, other income and the DCF.

57% of Dartmouth's undergraduates receive scholarships of some form. 51% of financial aid made available by the college is from endowment. 49% of financial aid comes directly from the DCF and other sources. In 2005, Dartmouth's undergraduate scholarship budget was $42 million. The $27.9 million in DCF contributions covered only 66% of that projected budget, hence the pressure on tuition and other income (including endowment distributions which have exceeded peer norms in the last several years).

Our class effort is therefore vital to Dartmouth's continued operation. If we can make our goal, the $650 thousand is equivalent to 33 student scholarships. Looking at the need from a different perspective, that amount would have covered the increase in the cost of oil to the college in 2005. The DCF covers all aspects of college needs, from academics to athletics. All gifts are important. In 2005, 94% of donors made gifts of less than $2500, but together they totaled $5.3 million, or the equivalent of 265 student scholarships, roughly a quarter of the number of students in a class. Dartmouth's purpose in life is educating students to be productive and contributing members of society, a benefit to all humanity. Ours through the DCF is to make that possible, because we are Dartmouth. Please be open to your classmates when they call, and please do what you can to help. Our DCF goal is monetary, but the purpose of our class DCF goal goes way beyond that.

See you in May.

Bob

Class Dues Notice

Jim Weiskopf, Class Treasurer, reports that, compared to this same time last year, the number of dues paying classmates has declined. Part of the problem may be that the first dues notice had to be re-mailed by the College because of data base errors at Alumni Affairs. The College will shortly be sending out the third dues reminder for this year's dues, so if you have not already paid, please do so when you receive this final notice for the year. Class dues are structured to cover our actual expenses for the year (primarily newsletters, Alumni Magazine subscriptions, and our class projects).

Association of Alumni Constitutional Change

Despite a blizzard that blew up the Northeastern Coast on Sunday, February 12, two hundred thirty alumni convened in Spaulding Auditorium to vote on an amendment to the Association of Alumni constitution that shifts the process for considering constitutional amendments from in-person voting requiring a three quarters majority to "all media" voting requiring a two thirds majority. The measure passed by a vote of 198 To 32, (86% approval, well above the 75% requirement for passage). The President of the Alumni Council, Rick Routhier '73, sent out the following letter outlining next steps in the effort to en-

The passage of this amendment by more than 80% of those present means that all alumni will be voting on this constitution soon. We have asked the Task Force Committee to complete their work in early March. Soon thereafter, we will send out to the entire Council their proposal. The Council will be asked to vote on the proposed constitution at our May meeting. And if we approve the proposal, the Association will then send out the proposed constitution for consideration by all alumni via "all media" voting, probably sometime this summer.

The reason I bring this up is that once the final proposal is completed, opportunities for further input will be limited. If you have input you would like considered, and have not done so already, I would urge you to read the draft constitution and give your feedback to the Task Force during the next month.

The draft constitution is on the web now at <http://webcast.dartmouth.edu>, and you have two ways to provide feedback:

1. Email the Task Force directly at AGTaskForce@Alum.Dartmouth.org.
2. Participate in a WEBCAST during which all alumni will be able to comment on the draft and ask questions of the Task Force.

The webcast is taking place on Monday, March 27, in Boston, from 7-9 pm (EST) at the Sheraton Boston. A formal invitation will be coming to you this week. Please come to the webcast in person if you can, or participate online.

The constitution draft resolves issues regarding the leadership structure, nominations for officers and alumni trustees, and the process for amending the constitution.

If you have a strong point of view on anything in the draft, we'd like to hear from you. Again, you can contact the Task Force by emailing your point of view directly to them or back to me.

At our behest as a Council and on our behalf, the Task Force has worked hard to craft a document and a constitution that will best serve the alumni. They are very near the finish line and we want to make sure they have the benefit of as much input as possible before they complete their work.

Thanks in advance for your consideration.

New Campus Construction Website

The Office of Planning, Design & Construction (PDC) now has a fairly comprehensive website with descriptions, cost figures, renderings, and photos of all the current construction projects on campus, including the Alumni Gym renovation and the Varsity House project. For classmates who have signed up for the 40th Reunion tour of new buildings (and any other "hard hat" types among us), you may want to check out <http://www.dartmouth.edu/~opdc/projects/index.html>.

News from Classmates (Redux)

While getting ready for our "May Madness", Roger Brett found time to meet up with Pete Barber at a restaurant overlooking San Francisco Bay. "We and our wives (Korki and Mary respectively) reminisced about our Dartmouth memories and got caught up on 40 years of life activities and made plans for the Reunion coming up soon. It just proves the side benefits that our Reunion brings."

Final Thoughts

This will be the last newsletter prior to reuniting for our 40th. Any future updates will be on the website. Don't forget to send in all your registration materials on pages 13 and 14. For those close to Hanover, please stop by for any of the events.

Finally, as we approach the Memorial Day fun and good times, keep in mind the words of W.B. Yeats, as recorded by Class Philosopher Jon Colby: "People who lean on logic and philosophy and rational exposition end by starving the best part of the mind".

Hits of 1966

The year 1966 was great, not just because of our Dartmouth class, but because there was so much good music that topped the charts that year! Which of the following were your favorites 40 years ago? Go to the Class of 1966 website at www.alum.dartmouth.org/classes/66, click on "Song Survey", and check off your fifteen favorites. Or, you can submit the survey by snail mail, sending it to me at PO Box 1127, Newtown, PA 18940.

Results will be revealed at the 40th Reunion and played during the opening reception, to help bring us back "into the mood". Again, choose up to 15 favorites from the following list:

- 1. You Can't Hurry Love ----- The Supremes
- 2. Good Lovin' ----- The Young Rascals
- 3. Reach Out, I'll Be There ----- The Four Tops
- 4. Last Train to Clarksville ----- The Monkees
- 5. We Can Work It Out ----- The Beatles
- 6. Turn, Turn, Turn ----- The Byrds
- 7. Monday, Monday ----- The Mamas & the Papas
- 8. (You're My) Soul and Inspiration ----- The Righteous Brothers
- 9. The Sounds of Silence ----- Simon and Garfunkel
- 10. California Dreamin' ----- The Mamas & the Papas
- 11. Summer in the City ----- The Lovin' Spoonful
- 12. Lightnin' Strikes ----- Lou Christie
- 13. Paint it Black ----- The Rolling Stones
- 14. Red Rubber Ball ----- The Cyrkle
- 15. Hanky Panky ----- Tommy James
- 16. 19th Nervous Breakdown ----- The Rolling Stones
- 17. Good Vibrations ----- The Beach Boys
- 18. Paperback Writer ----- The Beatles
- 19. When a Man Loves a Woman ----- Percy Sledge
- 20. Wild Thing ----- The Troggs
- 21. Lil' Red Riding Hood ----- Sam the Sham
- 22. Walk Away Renee ----- The Left Banke
- 23. Time Won't Let Me ----- The Outsiders
- 24. Gloria ----- The Shadows of Night
- 25. Bus Stop ----- The Hollies

Special 40th Reunion Pages

On the next five pages, the Reunion Committee has prepared an expanded summary of afternoon activities for Saturday and Sunday afternoons, a revised schedule for the weekend, and revised forms for Activity Participation and Registration.

Please join over 200 classmates and friends and get your forms in as soon as possible.

Afternoon Activity Descriptions

Saturday May 27, 2006 - Afternoon Activities ($ denotes extra cost):

Golf Tournament ($65 including cart and prizes, to be paid in advance): How's your game? Join Rich Kaiser for a great afternoon of golf at the Hanover Country Club. Have a BBQ lunch at the DOC House and walk across the street to the golf course.

Tennis Tournament (2:30 start): Still have that forehand? Join Jeff Futter and Ted Thompson (our own '66 resident Dartmouth Tennis Manager) for an afternoon on the courts. Jeff emphasizes that this will be a "Fun Mixed Doubles, Round-Robin Tennis Tournament". There will be time to enjoy the BBQ lunch and then get out to the tennis courts to join Jeff and Ted.

Running Event: Are you still running? Join Dick Blacklow for an afternoon congenial run. Course to start at the Hanover Country Club and drop down into the "Pine Park". The Course will be marked.

[If it should rain on Saturday, WHICH IT WON'T, the Golf, Tennis, and Running events will be held on Sunday]

Campus Facilities Tour: There are many new buildings either recently completed or still under construction. Join Jack Wilson, Facilities Planning, for a tour of what's new on the Dartmouth Campus. This will be a walking tour, so bring your comfortable shoes.

Marsh-Billings Farm & Museum Trip ($10 per person, to be paid in advance): A good friend of the Class of '66, Margie Carpenter, will lead a tour of this historic farm and living museum near Woodstock, VT. Car-pooling will be utilized. <http://www.nps.gov/mabi/> This tour will start with a guided tour of the Mansion & Garden. Then you can take a self guided tour of the Farm, go on a trails walk with a Ranger, or take a side touring and shopping trip to Woodstock (within walking distance). Again, comfortable shoes if you plan to go on the walk in the forest. Maps will be provided at Registration.

Hopkins Center Tour: A lot has changed at the Hop since we were on Campus. Join a guided, fascinating tour of this wonderful facility. Show your spouse where you used to pick up your mail! See productions being prepared for new performances.

Baker-Berry Library Tour: The new Library has some amazing new elements, but you'll also see some old friends. This tour will show you both. Could we have studied better with this new facility now named after the family of our very own '66 Classmate? This tour will leave from the Baker-Berry Main Hall.

Dartmouth Greenhouse (Open 2-5): Did you even know Dartmouth had a Greenhouse? Join Liz Palmer for a tour of this beautiful facility with its collection of amazing plants, including an extensive orchid collection. Liz has offered to have the Greenhouse open on a drop-by basis throughout the afternoon, so you can do other activities and also stop at the Greenhouse. Go to the 5th floor of Gilman Hall and Liz will greet you.

DOC Mt. Gile and Norwich Fire Tower Hike: Bring your hiking shoes and get out in the countryside for an afternoon hike lead by the DOC. Carpooling will be utilized to the starting point, which is only 15 min. from Hanover. A map will be provided at Registration. <http://www.dartmouth.edu/~doc/hiking/gilemountain/>

DOC Canoeing ($10 per two person canoe, to be paid in advance): Get out on the Connecticut River and enjoy an afternoon of canoeing with the DOC. This DOC led canoe trip will leave from the Boat House and paddle under the bridge to the Island a mile away, where there is a College Cabin (did you know that?) and a beach. <http://www.dartmouth.edu/~doc/paddling/>

(Special New Added Activity) Hood Museum Talk on the Cornish Art Colony (2 pm): Bonnie MacAdam, Curator of American Art at the Hood Museum, has offered to give a talk on "The Artistic Life of Cornish, NH". This slide talk will emphasize works by artists represented in the Hood collection and will also be a great preparation for the Saint Gaudens trip on Sunday.

Sunday May 28, 2006 – Afternoon Activities ($ denotes extra cost):

Golf ($55 including cart, to be paid in advance): Sunday will be the rain date for Saturday's Tournament. If the weather was good on Saturday, this will be a casual opportunity for those of you who can't stay off the links to play after picking up a box lunch at the Hop. Tee times will be reserved at the Hanover Country Club.

Tennis: As with golf above, if the weather was good on Saturday, this will be a casual opportunity to get some good exercise and enjoy the Dartmouth courts with your fellow Reunion attendees. Court time will be reserved.

Campus Facilities Tour: A repeat of the Saturday tour to see and learn about the many new buildings on campus. Join Jack Wilson for an interesting tour and discussion of what's new. Again, this will be a walking tour, so bring comfortable shoes.

Saint-Gaudens National Historic Site Trip ($10 per person, to be paid in advance): Margie Carpenter will lead another off campus tour. This time, she will take you to this fascinating museum and gardens in Cornish, NH. Again car-pooling will be utilized. <http://www.nps.gov/saga/> It is recommended to grab your box lunch at the Hop and go to Saint Gaudens for a picnic lunch. The tour will consist of a guided tour of the Sculpture Museum and Gardens. The group will then proceed to Windsor, VT, across a covered bridge, to the Cornish Colony Museum in the Old Firehouse Building. Maps will be provided at Registration.

Hood Museum Tour: The Hood Museum has changed extensively since we were on Campus. Join a docent lead, fascinating tour of the collections and current exhibits at this beautiful museum. <http://hoodmuseum.dartmouth.edu/> This tour will include an opportunity to meet with the new Director of the Hood, Brian Kennedy.

Baker Tower (Open 2-5): Have you ever been up to the top of Baker Tower? It's a beautiful view of the campus, Hanover, and the surrounding area. This is your opportunity to enjoy the view and get some great photos! Plans have been made for the Tower to be open on a drop-by basis throughout the afternoon, so you can do other activities and still come to the Tower, but be prepared. There is an elevator to Level 7 in the Stacks. Don't stop to study, but proceed up 4 sets of stairs with landings (total 95 stairs – with final 21 stairs very steep). Wear flat shoes or tennis shoes.

Organic Farm Tour & Open (12:30-5:30): Did you know Dartmouth had an Organic Farm? Here's your opportunity to see this facility three miles north on the Connecticut River and pick up some tips for your home gardening. Driving or carpooling will be utilized. <http://www.dartmouth.edu/~doc/organicfarm/> It is recommended that you pick up your box lunch at the Hop and head to the Organic Farm for a picnic by the River. Scott Stokoe, Manager of the Farm, will join you at lunch for some discussion of the history of the Valley area. He will then conduct a guided tour of this 1-acre Farm from 2-3:30. The Farm will be open for drop by visits until 5:30, so if you are doing another activity, you can still come by and check out the Farm. You will also get a chance to taste some of the Farm's produce. Maps will be provided at Registration.

DOC Mt. Cardigan Hike: If you missed out on Saturday's hike, here's another chance to get out in the countryside for an afternoon hike lead by the DOC and enjoy some beautiful views. Driving or carpooling will be utilized for the 40 min trip to the trailhead, with the hike to start at 2:15. If the weather is nice, it would be fun to pick up your box lunch at the Hop and have a picnic at the trailhead. Maps will be provided. <http://www.dartmouth.edu/~doc/hiking/mountcardigan/>

DOC White Water Rafting ($20 per person, to be paid in advance): A chance to enjoy rafting on the White River (mild Class 2 rapids) with DOC guides. The DOC will provide transportation for this trip (with one classmate car needed to help with the shuttling at the river). Meet at Robinson Hall for equipment fitting and then leave Hanover at 2:00. This trip will provide great views of Vermont along the river. <http://www.dartmouth.edu/~doc/paddling/connecticutcorridor/>
