August 2008

A Letter from Chuck Sherman

Dear Class of 1966,

At a meeting on July 10, the Class of 1966 Executive Committee enthusiastically endorsed a proposal that our Class contribute $160,000 as a restricted gift to Dartmouth to underwrite a new D.O.C. facility to be named the Class of 1966 Lodge.

This is a project that supports students directly, not only members of DOC, but any student group, fraternity or sorority, club or organization, seeking an off-campus meeting place. Located in Etna just twenty minutes from the campus and within a fifteen minute walk from parking near an Appalachian Trailhead, the Class of 1966 Lodge will also be available to any alumni group interested in an off-campus meeting site. For example, we will be inaugurating our Lodge over the Homecoming Weekend with a Friday evening supper. An ATV will be available to transport handicapped classmates and others.

This amount we seek to raise is a major portion of the cost of construction and maintenance of the new lodge recently completed on the site of the former Fred Harris Cabin that many of you will remember. In exchange, the lodge will bear our name and will place "1966" on the lips of students for years to come, as I'm sure you all remember the "1902 Room."

A two-page description of this project has been prepared by Dartmouth Outdoor Programs and is included as the "centerfold" (pages 6 and 7) of "Along Route '66". Links to more photos of the student-initiated construction and to a map showing the route from Hanover to the 1966 Lodge are available on the Class of 1966 website at www.alum.dartmouth.org/classes/66.

Like our first major Class Gift, the Memorial Field Scoreboard, it will be funded by our Class through special solicitations, not from our annual dues ($50) or special projects ($16) contributions. As with the scoreboard, contributions can count toward the current Campaign for the Dartmouth Experience. If you have already contributed to the Campaign, some of your contribution may be re-designated toward this Class of 1966 Gift. To be clear, gifts are totally separate from, and do not count toward, the Dartmouth College Fund.

The lodge is large and beautiful. It will be used by thousands of students and alumni over the years to come. We will use it extensively for our own future reunions and minis.

We hope you are supportive of the project and will help with the funding. Other classes of our era have raised large amounts to fund significant capital additions to the College, including 1957 ($750,000 for the John Sloan Dickey Library room in Haldeman Hall), 1965 ($1,065,063 to remodel the balcony of Webster Hall into the Rauner Library), and 1967 ($250,000 to endow a "Space for Dialogue" in the front hallway of the Hood Museum). This new gift will not diminish our ongoing projects: two 1966 Dickey Fellows, our Athletic Sponsors Program donation, our annual payment toward our Class Scholarship, and memorial books for classmates who have died. The Lodge will not diminish the $70,000 we have already set aside to offset the cost of our 50-Year Reunion.

This lodge funding opportunity arose when two of us were present at a dedication ceremony at the cabin site when the Director of Outdoor Programs mentioned that naming rights were available. We were first to respond, and luckily so, because other classes expressed interest after us, and were told 1966 has priority. It is a chance to support an historic and unique part of Dartmouth that has been underfunded by the current administration. Our name would go on the building NOW and give it OUR identity.

Jim Lustenader has agreed to head up a team of classmates who will be contacting you for donations towards this Class Gift. Jim will be ably assisted by Jim Weiskopf and Dick Birnie. We are seeking pledges that can be paid over a three year period, leading to our 45th Reunion in 2011. Our internal goal is to have pledges in-hand to reach our $160K commitment by the D.O.C.'s 100th Anniversary during 2009. We are already receiving contributions. You may send your check made out to DARTMOUTH COLLEGE CLASS OF 1966 LODGE to Dartmouth College, 6066 Development Office, Hanover, NH 03755.

We are eager to receive your comments and contributions.

Sincerely,

Chuck Sherman, President

Fall Mini-Reunion

Mini-Reunion Chairman Terry Lowd is in the midst of planning the 2008 Homecoming Mini, scheduled for October 17-18. New this year will be a Friday afternoon event at the afore-mentioned Class of 1966 Lodge in Etna, including a hike for early-arrivers and a supper before the Parade of the Classes. By popular demand, we will also be returning to Margo and Paul Doscher's beautiful home in Norwich for Saturday morning brunch and class meeting, the Hanover Inn for a post-game reception with the classes of 1964-68, and the Norwich Inn for the Saturday night dinner.

A sign-up sheet and tentative schedule are on page 11. Please fill it out as soon as possible and send it to Terry with your payments for the Friday supper, Saturday post-game reception, and Saturday dinner. The weather should be great, plenty of color should still be on the trees, so we expect a sizeable turnout. See you there!

Planning Continues for 65th Birthday Party

The Planning Committee led by Mini-Reunion Chair Terry Lowd held a conference call on July 30 to finalize the schedule for the Class 65th Birthday Party, May 22-25 in Santa Fe. It was decided, based on a survey of classmates planning to attend, to forego any pre- or post-Birthday walking tours or camping trips and focus on the core weekend.

Activities will start on Friday night, May 22, with a reception at the La Fonda (headquarters) Hotel. Dinner that evening will be on an individual basis, although "block" reservations will be made at a number of nearby restaurants. A bus trip to Bandalier National

Coming Events

Fall Mini-Reunion
65th Birthday Party

Hanover, NH
Santa Fe, NM

October 17-18, 2008
May 22-25, 2009

Monument will follow Saturday morning, taking advantage of Rebecca and Mike Bromley's offer: "I could lead an all day hike to Shrine of the Stone Lions in Bandelier with a stop at an unexcavated pueblo ruin along the way. For those who would not be enthralled by a 12 mile hike Rebecca could organize a much milder, but still interesting, alternative to include some combination of another section of the Monument, a hike down to the Rio Grande Gorge, the Puye Cliff Dwellings, some interesting Hispanic villages, or possibly the Georgia O'Keefe property. Your suggested reading list should include, in addition to the Tony Hillerman books, one called The Delight Makers by Adolphus Bandelier, after whom the Monument is named. It is an old book but was rereleased a few years ago and should still be available."

For those classmates and guests not interested in hiking, there will be alternative activities, including tennis (organized by Jeff Futter), golf (see below), gallery and museum hops, and shopping. Box lunches will be available for all.

Saturday evening will mark our initiation into Medicare with a dinner, birthday cake, and presentation by author Tony Hillerman, most likely at the Fenn Gallery, a mecca of southwestern art. The dinner itself will be in an outdoor garden under the stars!

An all-day excursion to the pueblo at Taos is being organized for Sunday with sightseeing stops along the way. Dinner is being planned at an authentic southwestern cuisine restaurant on the way back to Santa Fe. Again, box lunches and alternative activities, including a horticultural tour (organized by Margie Carpenter), golf, tennis, and shopping, will be offered. For those staying in and around Santa Fe, transportation in private cars will be offered to the restaurant.

Monday, the weekend would conclude with a "good-bye" brunch. The Committee, consisting of Terry, Eric Treisman, Al Keiller, Roger Brett, Dick Birnie, and John Rollins, is currently developing the budget and classmate cost for the event.

Accommodations and Golf

The La Fonda Hotel on the Plaza will serve as the "headquarters" hotel; a block of 50 rooms is available at $189 per night regardless of length of stay. To make reservations, call 800-523-5002 and mention "Dartmouth Class of 1966 Birthday Party".

The Committee is negotiating with the Sage Inn, a more economical alternative, to reserve a block of rooms for the "Dartmouth Class of 1966 Birthday Party" at $79 per night. The Sage is about a ten minute walk from La Fonda. Both hotels have websites for comparison purposes and are recommended by classmates who have stayed at each. There should be resolution/details by the next newsletter.

Black Mesa Golf Club

For '66 golfers, tee-times will be reserved on both Saturday and Sunday at the Black Mesa Golf Club, about 1/2 hour north of Santa Fe in Espanola. The course, rated #2 in New Mexico by Golfweek and the "Best New Affordable Public Course" (2003) in the US by Golf Digest, has a course rating of 72.7 and slope of 124. Greens fees are $87.

Transportation to Santa Fe

Airlines that fly into Albuquerque include Southwest, Northwest/Delta, United, Continental, American, USAir, ExpressJet, and Frontier. Because of Southwest, fares are fairly reasonable, if you're close to a Southwest departure airport. "Sunport" Airport is about an hour's drive from Santa Fe.

Bill Ramos writes, "I am absolutely planning to attend the Santa Fe gathering (fate & health permitting). I am almost certain to get there by flying in my own plane (a Cessna 414). Being of sound mind & body (at present) I hereby make the following offer: I will fly any & all '66ers & family from Albuquerque to Santa Fe and back. The 43 nautical mile flight should take about 16 minutes (add in taxi and climb out time it will be closer to 25 min). I can take up to 6 people per trip (NOT counting myself) in twin-engine, pressurized, air conditioned comfort. (Passenger number IS contingent on the size (weight) of the passengers and their baggage. Obviously, safety is paramount.) I have been flying since 1968 and have a Commercial license with over 2000 hours of flight time." Anyone interested can contact Bill at wramos66@aol.com.

John Pearson contacted Terry Lowd with another transportation idea. John has an associate who has a self contained vintage railroad car (see www.nyc-3.com). The car is available in New York and could take four couples from NYC to Santa Fe via Chicago. It could return via the same route or possibly go on to the west coast, up the coast and back via the Sierra Nevadas and the Colorado Rockies. One way, part way and day trip options would be available to classmates from both coasts and to classmates living anywhere along the route the train will follow. The car would stay in Santa Fe for the weekend and could be used to host cocktails, the Monday brunch, etc. (It also comes with its own chef!!). Any interested classmates should contact John as soon as conveniently possible at 401-862-5343 or mcvene@yahoo.com.

News from Classmates

Congratulations to David Godine, recipient of an Honorary Degree in the Fine Arts from Leslie University on May 22nd.

Speaking of Larry Geiger, he has served as our Class Secretary for forty-two years (yikes!!), our longest-serving class officer. Yet, ever modest, he rarely tells us in the Dartmouth Alumni Magazine Class Notes what he's up to. So, after some arm-twisting, he shared the following: "I joined the National Kidney Foundation in late December in the newly created position of Vice President, Marketing & Communications from a similar spot with the American Red Cross in Greater New York. Kidney disease is common, harmful and treatable. About 350,000 people with kidney disease are staying alive through dialysis. About 70,000 people are waiting for a lifesaving kidney transplant. NKF is dedicated to preventing kidney disease and helping patients and their families affected by the disease, which 26 million adults in the U.S. have. Since it's a silent disease, and only emerges when the kidneys are near failure, most of those who have the disease, usually people with high blood pressure or diabetes, don't know they have it. So we devote a lot of effort to public education, urging people to get screened for kidney disease at their own doctor or at one of our own free early evaluation programs. We also develop clinical guidelines for treatment that are followed around the world by doctors, nurses and other kidney health care professionals, advocate for kidney patients in Washington DC, and donate millions each year to young researchers and scientists working on kidney disease cures and treatment. I'm involved in marketing our outreach programs, annual conference, membership, our fund raisers (walks, car donations, golf tournaments) and all aspects of communications -- from the website to an embryonic national advertising campaign. So I'm still in the ad business -- helping an organization that's all about helping people live healthier lives. Not bad!

I left the White Plains (NY) Board of Education after 18 years in 2002. Just on a couple of committees as a volunteer -- the Foundation for Public Education in White Plains and the White Plains High School Hall of Fame Steering Committee. My wife, Amy, is the dedicated volunteer, contributing her time and talent regularly to the public schools and White Plains Hospital. My job has some travel around the US to meetings and to visit local offices. Most astounding discovery: my daughter Maggie, a NYC High School English teacher, is heading to Hanover this weekend for her 10th Reunion!! Wow. Younger daughter Pam, a special events planner for non-profits, just returned from her 5th at Connecticut College. So who feels old?" Besides writing for us, Larry has also served as Secretary and Class Notes editor for his Harvard Business School section for forty years!

Steve Sloca shared a story about Larry that he may not want to share with Maggie '98. Seems that in the spring of 1966, Steve wrote an editorial for The Dartmouth supporting co-education. The Editorial Board, shown left to right, Charlie Wilmot, John Calhoun, Steve, Roger Kline, Chris Langley, Larry, and Nelson Lichtenstein, voted 4-3 in favor of running Steve's piece. Voting against: Larry Geiger!!

Ed Grew sent along news and a photo: "This year I have been preoccupied with writing two research proposals to the National Science Foundation for support of my research on Antarctic minerals and rocks. Priscilla and I attended the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Boston where I received the certificate for Fellows of the Association from its president, Nobel Laureate David Baltimore. My travel plans for the coming summer include Matsue, Japan, where I will make my debut into meteoritic science."

Former Harris Cabin Site

Ever since John Gile '87 first lent his cabin to the use of the Outing Club in 1910, Moose Mountain has been a favorite destination of Outing Club members. Cow, Calf and Bull Moose cabins were followed by a cabin named in honor of the club's founder, Fred Harris '11 in 1951. Harris Cabin served as shelter to hikers and destination for student celebrations, feeds, fellowship and Freshman Trips, but it succumbed to the elements in the winter of 2000.

With student interest in log-building in a resurgence after over 10 years of hiatus, this project was undertaken. Logs selected and cut from the Second College Grant were brought to the site, students visited log building sites, researched techniques and began work. After three years of summer crews, a fall crew and a winter crew, countless work weekends, and unending enthusiasm from student and alumni volunteers, the Class of 1966 Lodge is nearly ready for occupancy.

Class of 1966 Lodge

Eight miles from campus and a 15 minute walk from the nearest road, this Lodge is the first DOC structure on the Appalachian Trail east of the Velvet Rocks shelter in Hanover. Beautifully appointed with custom trim, oak flooring and natural round railings, the cabin is both spacious and cozy. Fully-insulated with state-of-the-art log-building techniques, it is suitable for winter use despite the main room's gorgeous cathedral ceiling. Just a few hundred feet from the Clark Pond Ski Loop, this site has long been a mecca of winter sports and the new building promises to further this tradition. Plans are in the works to connect the site with the ski trails at Oak Hill, creating a perfect day trip from campus, with the promise of a warm meal and a spectacular surrounding.

More than its grandeur, location or functionality, the fact that it was entirely conceived and built by students will imbue the place with a magic unique to this project. As generations of Dartmouth community members enjoy the Class of 1966 Lodge, the knowledge that students built it will serve to inspire and awe its visitors, and that magic will warm the space better than any woodstove.

Facts

- 3.5 years of work
- Original chimney and fireplace refurbished
- Gas lights, range & oven
- Capacity 50-60 people
- Construction and maintenance underwritten by a gift from the Class of 1966

More News from Classmates

John Harbaugh is doing a lot of travelling: “Four high school students of German, one College student, and I are bound to the Rhineland this June to live with families in Cologne and take weekend bike trips along the river. We’ve been training by biking over Florida’s causeways. Last spring vacation Pam and I cycled along the Neckar River beginning at its source in the Black Forest and following it to Mannheim on the Rhine. This fall Pam and I shall visit daughter Brooke, a Fulbright teacher of English in Argentina.”

Thanks for all your news...and stay tuned for more from Bob Page, Gary Broughton, Jim Cason, and Robo Cleary in the September issue. Please remember to use the electronic green card on the Class of 1966 website. It’s easy...and makes the job of transcription for your editor easier as well.

Dartmouth College Fund

Head Agent Bob Spence reports, “This year our Class donated $250,000 with a 47% participation rate. The DCF raised $47 million with an equal participation rate. While impressive, as with the DCF, the Class came up short of its goals of $275,000 and 52%. In many ways this past year was a challenging one, as only thirteen classes had an increase in participation rates.

For those of you who participated, thank you; the next issue of Along Route '66 will include an honor roll of this year’s contributors. And thanks to the class agents who gave generously of their time in the effort to support the College and Class efforts.

What next year’s DCF will produce no one knows, especially given the Class’ commitment to fund the Class of 1966 Lodge. Teamwork, using past experience, trying to achieve the Class goals as defined, and taking individual pride in developing the basis upon which others might succeed fulfilling their own dreams, will drive our Class effort. Our individual decisions will influence the success or failure of their future. Failure is not an option. We are Dartmouth and Dartmouth relies on our support. I hope you will look at a new section of the DCF website (www.dartmouthcollegefund.org and click on “See the Impact of Your Gift”) to better understand how every contribution helps the College. Please help in the coming year.”

On behalf of the entire class, thanks to Bob for his continuing service in what is the hardest job of all the class officers.

Dues Mailing

Over the next six to eight weeks, you will be receiving in your mail the annual dues notice from Treasurer Tim Urban. As indicated in the cover letter that accompanies the form, dues provide funds for class newsletters and other mailings to keep us connected, annual subscriptions to the award-winning Dartmouth Alumni Magazine, and special class projects, including the two John Sloan Dickey Class of 1966 Fellows, the annual contribution to the Dartmouth

Athletic Sponsors' Program, the Memorial Book Program in recognition of deceased classmates, the Class of 1966 Scholarship Fund, and now the Class of 1966 Lodge.

So please send in your $50 dues and $16 contribution to class projects as soon as you get the mailing. THANKS!!

Results of Association of Alumni Election

A record number of Dartmouth alumni voted to elect new leadership of the Association of Alumni, a slate committed to ending a lawsuit challenging the Board of Trustees' authority to increase the number of "charter" trustees. Every member of the "Unity" slate of candidates for the eleven-member executive committee was elected with approximately 60 percent of the votes cast. With 24,940 ballots submitted, a record number of Dartmouth College's more than 65,000 alumni (38 percent) participated in the election: 16,397 ballots were cast online (66 percent) and 8,543 ballots (34 percent) were voted by paper, including 65 cast in-person at the June 10 Association meeting.

Alumni also voted to accept the proposed change to the association constitution to allow all-media voting by a vote of 19,821 "yes" to 3,017 "no", an 86 percent margin of victory. The amendment required a two-thirds supermajority of voting alumni to pass.

Alumni Council Meeting

The 196th meeting of the Dartmouth Alumni Council was held in Hanover from May 15 to May 17. Thanks to Hank Amon '65 for his minutes:

Admissions Update

Dean of Admissions and Financial Aid, Maria Laskaris '84, gave the Council a full rundown on the numbers for the Class of 2012 and noted this was the toughest year ever for getting into selective colleges.

Highlights are as follows:

- *Dartmouth offered admission to 2,190 applicants from a pool of 16,536, the largest ever, and a 16.6 percent increase from the year before;
- *The Class of 2012 is the most diverse ever, with 4 percent Native American, 14.6 percent Asian, 7.7 percent Latino and 8.9 percent African-American, for a total of 36 percent who are identified as "people of color";
- *Legacies make up 11.2 percent of the Class, up several points from the year before;
- *International students make up 8.5 percent of the Class, coming from 40 countries
- *Some 46.4 percent of the class will receive financial aid.

Laskaris described the policy changes in financial aid that have recently been announced by the College and reported in the news: no tuition will be charged to students coming from families earning less than $75,000 a year; need-blind admission has been expanded to include international students; and the financial aid packages, including grants instead of loans, for the Class of 2012. One new variable in 2008 was that, since Harvard and Yale had dispensed with early admissions, several hundred students were in the regular applicant pool that in a previous year might have already been accepted early by Harvard or Yale.

New Dean of the College Tom Crady

The Council had the opportunity to meet with Tom Crady, the recently named Dean of the College. Crady came to Hanover from Grinnell College in Iowa. He made the following points during our meeting:

*Student groups with whom he has met (and there have been several) all say they love Dartmouth. He said that, in his considerable experience, you just don't hear that. But the students do have concerns.

*The Committee of Standards. Crady intends to look at the judicial system more closely.

*Alcohol policy. Crady said the alcohol policy at every school should be reviewed regularly. He said the policy should not be punitive. Alcohol policy should be "safe, realistic and enforceable."

*Sororities. There ought to be an equal number of sororities to fraternities. There are more women in sororities than men in fraternities. This situation is exacerbated by Beta Theta Pi returning to campus and re-occupying its house, which had been leased to a sorority.

Athletic Recruiting, Admissions and the Ivy League

*The recruiting process at all colleges now starts earlier than ever. Prospects are identified by their sophomore year in high school, and many are committing to schools in their junior summers.

*Starting with a field of some 300 in the sophomore year, coaches travel to see as many as possible play at top competitive tournaments and over time narrow the field to 60 or so. The final number offered admission might be five or six.

*Coaches' conversations in the senior fall, when recruits are weighing offers from different schools, use the terminology "likely, probable, or unlikely" that you'll get into Dartmouth. Coaches try to give an idea of what any financial aid package will look like.

Alumni Liaison Committee

This Committee has been formed to be a link between the alumni and the College. The ALC's goal is to distill and distribute alumni sentiment. When Councilors receive emails from constituents, they will forward these and their responses, with the category in the subject line, to the Alumni Liaison Committee. These messages will then be reviewed and catalogued.

New Alumni Council Officers

The Alumni Council elected Janine Avner '80 of Los Angeles as president-elect. Tom Callahan '84 of Alexandria, VA, was elected to the Alumni Liaison Committee and Rick Allen '75 of Bethesda, MD, and Tracey Salmon-Smith '87 of Manalapan, NJ, were elected to the Council's Nominating and Alumni Trustee Search Committee.

The Class of 1966 thanks Hank for representing our class over the last three years. In December, Wayne LoCurto will assume responsibility for our class at future Alumni Council meetings.

Other Dartmouth News

Dartmouth Alumni Magazine has been named the Grand Gold Medal Newsweek Robert Sibley Magazine of the Year by the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education. This marks DAM's fifth Sibley and first since 1993. DAM now has more Magazine of the Year titles than any other alumni magazine.

"You will need to become agents of change," said President of Liberia Ellen Johnson-Sirleaf to the more than 1,700 recipients of degrees during a sunny Commencement on June 8. Africa's first elected female president, Johnson-Sirleaf was also one of eight individuals—including Nobel Prize winner Thomas Cech, actress Cicely Tyson, and alumni Ralph Manuel '58 and Richard Hill '41, Tuck '42—to receive an honorary degree.
