Letter from Chuck Sherman

Dear Classmate,

When did the Class of 1966 graduate?

I, for one, know I graduated from Dartmouth in 1967. I matriculated in the fall of 1962 with about 839 other guys (we were a very big class), but I took a year off, studied abroad, and graduated with the Class of 1967. How different am I?

The College's alumni database says I graduated in 1966. So I know it is wrong on one count. It says five others (but not I) graduated in the years following 1966. Could that be all? I decided to find out.

On a cold day last winter, suitable for staying indoors, I sat down in Rauner Library, the college archives, in what we called Webster Hall, with a bound set of Commencement Programs for all years. I paged through the years from 1965 to 1973, looking at the names of graduates. Most of you are in the 1966 Commencement program. Some appear in no Commencement programs, four appeared in two successive programs. The 1966 Commencement program also listed a few from earlier Classes who, like me, found a reason to take time out, as well as one precocious friend, Bob Burka '67, who graduated with the '66s.

Here's what I learned, incomplete as it may be:

The number of '66s (including one or two transfer students) who graduated in each year from '65 through '73 are:

1965	5
1966	667
1967	32 (includes me)
1968	18
1969	10
1970	2
1971	3
1972	2

We also have three adoptees on our rolls, today. And I know of one (there may be more) who graduated with the Class of '67 and adopted them.

The above figures leave out 87 who were not in the Commencement programs. No doubt many of these dropped out and transferred to other undergraduate schools. The Alumni Records show that 17 of these got other degrees, BAs, PhDs, JDs, MFAs, DDSs, MDs, etc., from other institutions. Among the residual, with no academic accomplishment on the record, are four who list "M.D." as a suffix to their name. One of these "jump outs", I know, skipped our senior year and went straight to medical school; he now holds an endowed professorship at the Harvard Medical School. That's quite an accomplishment to be missing from the record!

Remember, we are all CLASSMATES of 1966!

No doubt you've forgotten some you once knew, and there are many you have yet to meet.

Our mini-reunions and maxi-Reunions and 66th Night initiatives give you some fresh opportunities to meet your old friends. JOIN US FOR THE 45TH THIS COMING OCTOBER!

--Chuck

Homecoming Mini-Reunion

On October 29-30, fifty-six classmates, family members, and guests gathered for the annual Homecoming Mini-Reunion. The weekend started with 'tails and a barbeque at the DOC House on Occum Pond, leading up to the evening Parade of the Classes down Main Street.

Kathy and Wayne LoCurto and Marie and Chris Meyer (shown above), were among the group enjoying the barbeque and parade, along with Audrey and Rob Knight, and Susi and Peter Orbanowski

Saturday morning at Margo and Paul Doschers' home in Norwich saw a large contingent arrive for coffee and a delicious brunch and, secondarily, for the class meeting. Bob Spence presented the results of last year's Dartmouth College Fund drive and the plans for this year's effort, which ends in June (see page 10). Chuck Sherman presented the 2010-2011 Class Budget (see page 9), which designates $10,100 for charitable projects, and was approved unanimously. Jim Lustenader reviewed the plans for the 45th Reunion, October 14-17, 2011 (see below), emphasizing the need for classmates to make hotel reservations as soon as possible as the timing coincides with the "senior citizen" leaf-peeper season. Attendees included Jeff Gilbert, who was leaving the next day for a Dartmouth Alumni Trip to northern India, Leslie Warner and Gary Jefferson, Ken Reiber, Jo and Al Keiller, and Barbara and Steve Lanfer.

The football game against Harvard was disappointing, as the Big Green came into the game with a 4-2 record, but lost 30-14. Game attendees relieved their sorrow at adopted classmate John Chapin's Canoe Club; the contingent included Ann and Ted Thompson, Susan and Gus Southworth, and Sharon and Gary Broughton.

Third Annual 66th Night
45th Reunion

Various Hanover, NH

March 7, 2011
October 14-17, 2011

The Class Dinner at the Norwich Inn included presentations by Class of 1966 Dickey Fellows Michael Chen '11 and Joe Pearl '11. Michael traveled to Berlin to work with the new Egyptian Museum and Joe traveled to Morocco to undertake a GIS mapping project.

Enjoying the choice of steak, chicken, or fish were Jeanne and Richard Blacklow, Theresa and Robin Carpenter (alas without University of Tampa freshman Abigail), Jef Fellows, David Johnston, Judy and Terry Lowd, Mary and Mike McConnell, just back from a Dartmouth Alumni Trip to Turkey, and Kathy and Bruce McKissock.

The weekend concluded with a Sunday morning brunch at the Class of 1966 Lodge. The group, pictured below, included Dawn and Bob Hawley, Peggy and Lance Tapley, who had spent the weekend at the Lodge, and Sharon and Jim Botelho.

Special thanks from the Class go to Mini-Reunion Chair Jim Lustenader for organizing an outstanding event with the largest attendance ever for a Homecoming Mini. Wah-hoo-wah, Jim!

45th Reunion

The first official registrant for our 45th reunion is none other than....DEAN THADDEUS SEYMOUR!!!

Yes, Thad will be joining us October 14-17, thanks to the persuasive powers of Reunion Chair Jim Lustenader. Jim's latest update follows:

Dear Classmates:

In a mere 10 months we will be gathering in Hanover on October 14-17 for our 45th Reunion. Your reunion committee chose this October weekend to take advantage of the glorious fall color, which should be peaking in the Upper Valley about that time.

The dining and event details and costs are still being worked out, but I am writing you now to provide an outline of the weekend and advise of special arrangements we have made with hotels in the area. The latter point is very important because Tuck moved its annual gathering to the same time as our reunion, so you should act right now if you want to be sure of getting the hotel reservation you want.

Preliminary Schedule

Thursday, Oct. 13: For those wishing to arrive early, there will be a Moosilauke trek and feed organized by classmate Doug Hill. We are also making arrangements with the DOC for overnight accommodations at the Ravine Lodge – details to follow. Early registration will be possible.

Friday, Oct. 14: Reunion officially begins with registration at Zimmerman Lounge in Blunt Hall. In the afternoon we will sit in on classes (TBD) and visit with students (including the '66 Dickey Interns) at Collis or Top of the Hop. Friday night will be “group night” to make time for fraternities, clubs and long-time (or long-lost) friends to make their own arrangements to get together and dine independently around town. An informal dinner is planned at Collis or Thayer for those not wishing to join a group gathering. All classmates will be invited to meet at Collis after dinner for night-caps and dancing.

Saturday, Oct. 15: Registration continues. After breakfast (on your own), Howie Weiner will screen and lead a discussion of his film “What Is Life About?” at a campus location TBD. Lunch will be at the DOC House on Occom Pond, followed by an afternoon schedule of concurrent events that will allow you to choose among faculty talks, campus tours, visits to local attractions (e.g., Billings Farm, King Arthur Flour), golf, tennis, and the like. Note: if there is a specific topic you would like to have a faculty member address or specific desires as to tours and places to visit, please let us know and we will do our best to accommodate. Saturday night will be our official reunion dinner with dancing at Dowds' Country Inn in Lyme.

Sunday, Oct. 16: After breakfast (on your own), we will have a memorial service at Rollins Chapel, followed by a class meeting, where we will elect a slate of officers to serve for the next five years (elections will be held via the web for non-attendees during the 30 days prior to the reunion). A tour of the renowned Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center (including a talk by a senior member of the center's team) will precede lunch, which will be on your own. The afternoon will feature additional concurrent faculty talks, campus tours, and a walk to the '66 Lodge on Moose Mt. A cocktail party at the Top of the Hop with entertainment by one or two student singing groups will kick off the evening, followed by dinner in Alumni Hall, where we hope to have President Kim as our speaker. A post-dinner gathering for those with enough energy will be at the Canoe Club on Main Street.

Lodging

We have made arrangements for special rates at the following hotels. Please note that you are responsible for making reservations and paying for your own lodging – and for canceling reservations should your plans change. In all cases, room blocks have been set up for 10/14-17; if you wish to come up early on 10/13, be sure to ask the hotel if you can have the special group rate for that night. Except for the Norwich Inn (see below), request the “Class of '66 reunion rate.” Rates do not include taxes.

* Norwich Inn (802-649-1143): Tuck School has reserved a block of rooms, and the administration has been gracious enough to allow us to use rooms from their block. If you wish to stay here, ask for the “Tuck School reunion rate” when making your reservations. PS: Norwich has rebuilt its motor lodge section behind the main inn and rooms there are much more comfortable now.

* Hanover Inn (603-643-4300): Already sold out; try later to see if there have been any cancellations.

* Courtyard by Marriott (603-643-5600): Located across from Dartmouth-Hitchcock in Centera. Forty-five rooms have been set aside for our class: king bed at $199, two queen beds at $209. Reserve on or before 9/14/2011 to get special rate. Note: this hotel has a shuttle bus to Hanover, and there is regular town bus service from right across the street.

* Residence Inn by Marriott (603-643-4511): In the same Centera complex as the Courtyard. Twenty rooms have been reserved: studio and one-bedroom suites at $179. Deadline for reservations is 9/14/2011. Note: this hotel has a shuttle bus to Hanover, and there is regular town bus service from right across the street.

* Dowds' Country Inn (603-795-4712): Twenty rooms have been reserved: one queen bed at $165, two queen beds at $180, and suites at $195 (special rates only for reservations made by Aug. 14). Thirty-day cancellation. Note: includes breakfast.

* Six South Street Hotel: The newest addition to downtown Hanover, this luxury hotel has set aside 15 rooms for us: $279 per night. Deadline for reservations is 9/1/2011. Cancellations less than 7 days prior to arrival will be charged one night's lodging. The hotel will be completed in a couple of months so there is no on-site office yet; to make reservations now it is best to contact the manager at donald.bruce@sixsouth.com or 802-578-2974.

* Hampton Inn (802-296-2800): In WRJ, this newly remodeled inn has extended a 15% discount off regular rates to our class that is good at any Hampton Inn in North America. Ask for the “Dartmouth College Class of '66 rate” or use this hot link to make online reservations: <http://hamptoninn.hilton.com/en/hp/reservations/index.jhtml?hotel=WRJVTHX&corporateCode=2633231>. No room block has been reserved; just use the code and get the discount.

* Fairfield Inn by Marriott: Also in WRJ; we are working on a 15% discount similar to the arrangement with the Hampton Inn and will have that reservation code shortly.

Here are other nearby establishments (some more reasonable than others) where we have not reserved blocks but which you may wish to contact:

- * White Goose Inn, Orford NH (603-353-4812)
- * Silver Maple Lodge, Fairlee VT (802-333-4326)
- * Chieftain Motor Inn, Hanover NH (603-643-2550)
- * Breakfast on the Connecticut, Lyme NH (603-353-4444)
- * Lyme Inn, Lyme NH (603-795-4824) Note: this property is under construction and should be sorted out and ready to go in a couple of months. Rates will be $275-475 per night.

That's all for now. Don't forget to book your room reservations as soon as possible!

Best,

Jim Lustenader & the Class of '66 Reunion Committee

The Committee is currently finalizing the Reunion Budget; a complete sign-up sheet will be available in the next issue of AR '66.

News of Classmates

As many of you are aware, Phi Delta Alpha Fraternity suffered a third-floor fire a year ago, which left the house severely damaged. Alumni of the House undertook a major fundraising campaign; renovations were completed over the summer. To mark the re-opening of the "Phi Palace", a number of '66ers, organized by Albie MacDonald, joined alumni brothers, President Kim, and other College officials over the weekend of September 25-26. Albie's report, forwarded by Bruce Thorsen, follows:

"Well, it was quite a party! It was really something to be at the Phi Palace with Ted Amaral, Charlie Stuart, Dean Spatz, Arne and Edie Rovick, Neil Castaldo, and more from other classes. It was just like we never left Hanover (other than the fact that none of us made it past midnight). The House is rebuilt, as advertised, although the core is definitely the same as we remember it. ... The House now holds 25 residents, whereas we did well to fit 17 to 18.

The Friday night gathering in the basement (which I didn't make) ended in the early morning. Then there was the pre-game cookout only a few hours later (which I did make), which lasted well into the first quarter. We watched in admiration how the current Phis use low-tech cleaning methods to get ready for the next wave of partying. Three or four full-sized snow shovels wielded by the brothers to pick up debris and put it into many barrels. One might think a few shovel-fulls would do the job, but Charlie and I watched for some time, and it didn't seem as if much progress was being made.

Also, there have been some significant advances made in the beer pong game since our last game there. First, no nets on the tables. They'd only get in the way, and delay hitting the cups (yes, more than one cup)! Another change –no juke box in this mix, which is unnecessary, anyway, because the House is wired with speakers all over the place, with music that can be turned up loud enough to be heard in Lebanon. A wonderful advancement, which can keep everyone awake wherever they are on Webster Avenue, President Kim came by the House after the game, in his Dartmouth football jersey, to say how happy he was to see the Phi alums. Saturday's dinner was a great success with over 150 for dinner – 100 plus alums and 50 '11s and '12s. Rush for the '13s doesn't start until October." Thanks, Albie, for your report...and reminding us that the visit of the '66ers was equivalent to the Class of 1920 visiting us during the fall of our senior year!!!

Neil Castaldo has moved back to Hanover. As part of the Phi Delt reportage, Charlie Stuart writes, "Castaldo has gone overboard with his recent move back to Hanover where he is the general counsel to Mary Hitchcock Hospital (must be in honor of those nurses he 'dated' on Sunday nights). Doc has bought season tickets to Dartmouth football for the entire family. Albie and I will be joining him and embarrassing him in front of his children with old stories of never attending classes. Apparently his wife is a rather smart person and is fleeing Hanover for the entire weekend."

charlescstuart@gmail.com

Bill Viar was unable to make the Phi Delt reunion. Albie reports, "Bill is retired from the practice of medicine these days. He and Barbara have four sons and a daughter in places like Santa Barbara, Chicago, and Jackson, NH. Bill and Barbara are spending quality time back and forth between Alabama and North Carolina."

wviar1@aol.com

While Bruce Thorsen wasn't able to make the reunion either, he donated to the Class his Dartmouth mug, which is now safely (???) positioned on the fireplace mantle in the Class of 1966 Lodge.

dbthorsen@aol.com

Speaking of the Lodge, the Class' thanks go to Chuck Vernon for making three beautiful benches at the entrance of the Lodge (see benches below with Webster Sherman '01):

chuck_vernon@loomis.org

Don "Easy Rider" Graves writes, "This Fall, I have to make it across country to the Left Coast for a mission trip to a church we are building in central Baja. Our departure for that trip will be 10/24. Backing up 9 days and I will have to leave Maine some time after the Dartmouth-Yale game. Transportation will be as shown below. That's my grandson, Ian, standing next to me. Perhaps he will be a Dartmouth soccer player in the class of 2024...one can dream." Don, any tattoos to go with the bandana??

donald.p.graves.66@alum.dartmouth.org

Brendan Lesch will not be a Dartmouth soccer player in the class of 2024...or in the class of 2015. A grandson of Kathy and Wayne LoCurto, the All-American high school mid-fielder will be headed for Notre Dame and a future career, he hopes, in professional soccer. Wayne recounts, "He was recruited by many schools including Dartmouth, Harvard, Stanford, etc. He chose Notre Dame because of Bobby Clark, the quality of the ND program and because they play all year long. He wants to be a professional soccer player and felt that ND would give him the exposure he wants." By the way, can it be true that we now have grandchildren enrolling in college????

wlocurto@gmail.com

"Are you going to the Princeton game?", writes Jim Nutt. "We hope to, and the brunch preceding with President Kim. We are well, enjoying retirement since July 1. All three boys are finished school. Rob, our middle son, is getting married in two weeks. Finally one!" Betsy and Jim didn't make it, but Paula and Ed Jereb and the Serenbetz's enjoyed the Big Green's 31-0 win over the pussy-cats.

jnut3@aol.com

"Since I haven't updated the Class on my doings for a number of years (2004?)," writes Chris Sanger, "I thought I would drop you a line to fill in the blank space. The big news (at least for me) was that I got divorced last year after 42 years of marriage. My ex and I simply had grown apart and had very divergent views of what we expected for the rest of our lives. I can't exactly say that the divorce was friendly, but at least we didn't try to tear each other's throats out. It cost me a bundle, but as some wise man once said "no price is too great to pay when the issue is freedom." Amen to that!"

"After spending about a year post-separation making up for having missed the sexual revolution by a whisker in the late '60's, I have recently decided to slow down and "go steady" with one woman; and although I will never remarry, the relationship is comfortable and easy. If I could find my old fraternity pin I would "pin" her! LOL."

"I am still living in Tucson, AZ, and when not there I can usually be found on my houseboat at Lake Powell or visiting my grandchild (only one so far, Zia, pictured with me above). I continue to practice law part-time (mostly tele-commuting) and also spend a lot of time getting aggravated about my golf game, which seems to get a little worse each year no matter how much I practice and play. Thank God I have no major health problems yet, so for the most part I am enjoying life." Thanks, Chris, for the update.

chris.sanger@transwestern.net

Author Bill Wilson reports on his latest book and activities: "Last November I finished up my 14th book - this one a translation of the 5th century BC Chinese classic, Tao Te Ching - and headed straight for my favorite place in Japan, the Kiso Road, a path (now a mixture of dirt path, narrow road, highway) in use since the early 8th century. There I acted as a sort of Lokian translator/guide for a travel writer from Smithsonian magazine (see the article in the October issue 2010), as we hiked about 60 miles through and over the Japanese Central Alps. At home, I am still playing with Oriental languages, doing my best to fit them into some kind of understandable English.

Projects for next year include a work on the Japanese art of Tea, and a biography of Santoka, a 20th century haiku poet/Zen priest/sake drinker/peripatetic. My 6-year-old son Henry is now in first grade, and has been practicing kendo - Japanese fencing - for some time. A few months ago, I decided to join him in practice at the dojo, and admit that I do not cut a real graceful figure! I am happy to relate, however, that no one has actually laughed in my face yet. Hard to tell behind all that face gear. Otherwise, a little canoeing, walk the dogs, cook (pastas are my true calling in life), and an occasional bottle of Amarone. The photo below was taken on the Kiso Road in 2009. The fellow sitting next to me is Takashi Ichikawa, an old friend and mentor who introduced me to Japanese literature and mountain climbing about 1967. The little girls are his grandchildren. Best to all."

wils7898@bellsouth.net

To celebrate Homecoming in the South, Mary and Brad Stein headed to Staunton, VA: “The Shakespeare weekend with Professor Saccio was terrific. The only 66’s who went were us, Joan and Bill Bailey, and Ann and Ken Zuhr, but it was generally well attended and very entertaining and enjoyable.”

Paul Darling has relocated from Switzerland back to Ohio, where he is recovering from a serious illness, reports Bill Gruver. “A note or card with a Dartmouth photo or logo might work best at this point...his current address is: The Good Samaritan Nursing Home, 32900 Detroit Road, Avon, OH 44011.”

Bill, incidentally, has been named Bucknell University’s first Howard I. Scott Clinical Professor of Global Commerce, Strategy and Leadership, The endowed position provides instructional, scholarship and mentoring support for Bucknell students in the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Engineering and the School of Management.

According to Bucknell President Brian Mitchell, “Professor Gruver has distinguished himself as an educator both in and outside of the classroom.

He has demonstrated a tremendous commitment to the University as a teacher and advisor, and he has earned great respect from students. His prolific writing and commentary have established him as a national expert in the investment field.”

Bill joined Bucknell’s Management Department in 1993, when he retired as a general partner after a 20-year career at Goldman, Sachs. In 2009 he received the University’s Lindback Award for Distinguished Teaching. His opinions and articles have been published in The Financial Times, Los Angeles Times, The New York Times and The New Republic, and heard on Public Radio International. Bill was President of Sigma Nu at Dartmouth and received his MBA from Columbia.

Updates

Jim Weiskopf Is Our New Treasurer

Citing business and family commitments, Tim Urban has resigned as Class Treasurer; the Class Executive Committee has elected former Treasurer Jim Weiskopf to serve the balance of Tim’s term.

“Tim and his administrative assistant Megan Jacques did a fine job overseeing the class’ finances since 2006,” said Chuck Sherman, “during a period when we completed the funding of the Class of 1966 Lodge and initiated funding of a Class Scholarship, to be given to the College at our 50th Reunion. I am pleased that Jim, who served the class so ably as Treasurer from 2001-2006, has agreed to take on the role until our next election for class officers at our reunion next year.”

Jennifer Casey Adopted by the Class

The Class Executive Committee unanimously elected Jennifer E. Casey as the third “adopted” member of our Class. Jennifer currently serves the College as the Acting Director of Class Activities in the Alumni Relations Department.

Prior to her current role, Jennifer oversaw all class activities for the classes of 1934-69, while providing support to all newsletter editors and treasurers. The responsiveness and support that she has given to a number of your class officers was a primary criteria for her selection.

Jennifer holds a BA degree from Indiana University and a Masters in Public Communication from American University. Her husband Michael is a Dartmouth professor and head of the Music Department; they have two daughters.

Class Budget

As noted, the Class approved the following budget for the 2011 fiscal year, compared to actual results in 2010:

	2011 Budget	2010 Actual

Total assets of the Class amounted to $80,310, including $60,389 in bonds maturing in 2015. Key to achieving a break-even this year is receiving dues payments from only 360 classmates. For those of you who have not yet paid, please use the form below:

Class of 1966 Dues Remittance

I, _____, would like to pay () $50 basic dues, () $66 dues and projects, () $100 dues, projects and a Class Treasury contribution.

Enclosed is a check payable to Dartmouth College Class of 1966. Please mail to: Jim Weiskopf, Treasurer, 13125 Willow Edge Court, Clifton, VA 20124-1080.

Thanks to all who contributed to the DCF in 2010 (see page 12). The 2011 campaign is now well underway and even more important this year to meet the needs of incoming students, as noted in Head Agent Bob Spence's call for action:

Dear Classmates,

Here's a timely quote. "But the 'New Dartmouth' is not the result of revolution, but of evolution. The old traditions have not been broken down, but have adapted themselves to modern requirements. No institution can stand still and succeed, and the policy of even Dartmouth has been ever progressive, alive to the present needs." The need to educate native Americans was what drove Wheelock to found Dartmouth. While that need has not changed, the process has certainly evolved, for all of us. Go to www.dartmouth.edu. Everything from sports to budget realignment in this difficult financial environment is presented in transparent detail (and once I receive the latest annual report I'll run the numbers for you, assuming I can find my slide rule.) It's all there for your understanding.

The article from which the above was taken goes on to state: "A century hence the college will be thrilled by the speeches of Dartmouth night with the same love of Alma Mater as it is today..." This article was taken from the New England Magazine dated January, 1910. It has indeed been a century since the article was written to commemorate the tenure of President Tucker, and the prediction has come to pass, given the reception that President Kim's speeches have invoked. As stated long ago by Alphonse Karr, "The more things change the more they remain the same."

The article also states that "the most potent factors in keeping up of the old spirit are the alumni and the alumni associations". This is also true. The College could not survive without the endowment and Dartmouth College Fund support it receives for those associations, which is why class participation is measured in terms of support of the DCF. Go to www.dartmouth-collegefund.org to view the impact our gifts have on the College. As Dartmouth's curriculum continues to adapt to modern times, its foundation does not change. We are that foundation, and 66's goal this year is to be recognized as "Class of the Year". To do that we need your support.

Please be receptive to our class agents' calls. This is our 45th, let's make it memorable!

We are Dartmouth...

Class Representative Wayne LoCurto just completed his penultimate meeting of the Council and will have a report available for the next edition of AR '66. Wayne's three-year term ends with the May 2011 meeting; under Council rules, he cannot serve another consecutive term for our class.

The Class will be holding an election for Wayne's replacement during the summer of 2011. Any classmate interested in serving should contact Chuck Sherman at chucksherman@mac.com. The council rep attends two-day meetings in Hanover during May and December and participates in committee matters, generally by conference call or email. If you have any specific questions as to time requirements, please email Wayne at wlocurto@gmail.com.

Class Officers Weekend

The annual Class Officers' Meeting was held in Hanover in early September. Attendees included President Chuck Sherman, Vice-President Al Keiller, Head Agent Bob Spence, Webmaster Ben Day, your Newsletter Editor, and outgoing Treasurer Tim Urban, pictured below with wife Toni:

While the Class did not win any awards, we were recognized along with five other classes for our communication efforts, specifically the content and depth of our website, the number of, and classmate recognition in, newsletters, the coordination between the secretary, webmaster, and newsletter editor, and the "WOW" effort to locate all classmates and expand the number of email addresses. For his efforts, Ben Day was elected VP of the Class Webmasters.

IN MEMORIA

The Class has received word that Howard P. "Phil" Fischbach, III, M.D., of Springfield, Ohio, died unexpectedly on Friday, August 10, 2007. He was born in Cincinnati and attended Oak Hills High School where he was a member of Boys' State, the football team, and co-captain of the track team. At Dartmouth he lived in 303 Wheeler; Phil did not graduate from the College.

He was a board certified anesthesiologist and spent the first twelve years of his career in the U.S. Navy, teaching and practicing anesthesia. An avid supporter of Box 27 Associates of the Springfield Fire and Rescue Division, he leaves his wife Deb, two sons and their wives, Howard P. and Donna Fischbach, IV of SC, and John Alexander and Sherry Fischbach of TN, and four grandchildren.

Memories...

From Allan Anderson's November 1995 Along Route '66:

- Erv Burkholder and Bob Serenbetz presented the Class of 1966 Scoreboard to the College during halftime of the Homecoming game vs. Colgate. Bob Blackman was among those honored on the field
- Erv and Chris had spent time in July hiking in the Swiss Alps with Anne and John Rollins
- Reunion Head Agent Bill Higgins set a goal of $366,000 for the 30th Reunion DCF Campaign... and guaranteed it was a "make"
- Brad Laycock had switched from banking to the Methodist ministry
- 50 classmates and family members made it to the Norwich Inn for the Homecoming dinner, including students Oliver Prichard and Rob Nutt
- Ed Kuriansky was named Prosecutor of the Year by the NY State Bar Association
- Chuck Sherman was asked to compile a list of classmate email addresses for a Directory entitled "Internet '66"

--Bob Page had a home in Derby, VT and visited high school history teacher and soccer coach Bill Duval in Essex Junction

30 Years Ago

From Terry Lowd's August 1980 Along Route '66:

- 100 classmates and family members attended the 15th reunion (combined with the classes of 1964 and 1965). The reunion included a 10km run and a "Country Cookout", complete with "games of skill, craft booths, and farm animals"
- The Class Executive Committee was pondering a class project, in addition to the Memorial Book Awards
- A form at the end of the newsletter asked for volunteers to serve the class as officers to replace Terry (Newsletter Editor and President), Paul Babcock (Treasurer), Paul Doscher (Head Agent), and Larry Geiger (Secretary)

'66 ABROAD

Classmates who have signed up for future Alumni Trips include:

Japan (May 2011): Gary Broughton
Alaska (July 2011): Richard Brigden

"We just got home from Vietnam where we had a wonderful and fascinating time," writes Rich Daly. "It was a special treat for Mary and me to spend a couple of weeks with Pietie and Dick Birnie and to get to know their good friends (Pietie's Wellesley college roommate) Sara and Jeff Drogin." The Dalys and the Birnies bicycled through the countryside.

Sharon and Gary Broughton, Karen and I spent ten days in early September exploring southern England, Wales, and the Lake District, including a trip to the Broughton Castle in Oxfordshire, which passed from one of Gary's relatives to the Fiennes family, of acting fame (e.g. Ralph and Joseph)...in the 1600's!
